APC Committee, Explanatory Note to APC, Second Edition

09.01.2008

Explanatory Note Concerning APC Monographs 3.7 and 7.2

The general monographs 3.7. „Fermented tinctures“ and 7.2. “Compositions made by treating two or more mother tinctures with one or more mother tinctures or dilutions by one or more pharmaceutical processes” both relate to production methods which are widely used and define different Viscum album L. preparations. These preparations are composed using Viscum album L. harvested at different seasons. The concerned compositions can be potentised.

The concerned compositions comply with the definition of an anthroposophic medicinal product as they are conceived, developed and produced in accordance with the anthroposophic knowledge of man, nature, substance and pharmaceutical processing.
